Alien Student Writes About Constitution

By David Pearson I have recently read for the first time the national Constitution. and was extremely gratified discover that I dwell in a country holding so splendid an example of literary skill as its supreme law. Indeed, the Constitution can very well mean something to me especially, since I am an alien not accustomed to enjoying the guidance and authority of quite such a lemocratic and Christian form of overnment. Therefore I rejoice possessing the opportunity for resenting my own opinions on this The Constitution is political masterpiece: genius of the highest caliber; the very urgency existing during the limes wherein it was founded no cessitated no settlement but the best, so that all persons involved might be satisfied. Neither was its construction a haphazard affair: long tedious hours were maintained at the convention until at last was illuminated one certain chance toward achieving the termination of the problem. THE BEST CROWD TO FOLLOW IS THE CROWD GOING TO CHURCH

THERE'S NO EVIL THERE EXCEPT WHAT YOU CARRY WITH YOU

You May-Cut-Your Own Hair

... But you can NOT save your soul!

Jesus fixed it that way. This man is a big man ... a rugged business man ...experienced in all the ways of life. He is reliable, self-confident and successful. Man is master over a few things but his success fades when God's help ends. So does yours. A man may cut his own hair but it is impossible for him to save his own soul. Whoever you are... whatever you have done ... you have a life to live, a soul to save, an eternity to spend. You need the help of one far more infinite and much wiser. He is a willing God. Try meeting Him halfway and your luck will change. He won't issue permits on many of the things you do but He welcomes you to His church.

"IF GOD BE FOR YOU, WHO CAN BE AGAINST YOU...."

These Firms Pledge Their Unqualified Support to Him.
